Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Alan Kamrath on September 12, 2005. The following amendments were authorized by Mr. Kamrath to overcome minor informalities and Jiang (US Pat. No. 6,616,582):

- In claim 1, line 20, after the word 'ring' insert --about a pivot axis--.
- In claim 1, line 21, after the word 'counterweight' insert --radially adjusted with respect to said pivot axis--.
- In claim 5, line 1, after the word 'claim' delete "1" and insert --2--.
- In claim 20, line 2, after the word 'shape' insert --.--.
- In the specification on page 10, line 20, after '622' remove the word 'is'.
- In the specification on page 1, change the title from "Exercising Device" to --Abdominal Exercising Device with Rotation Body and Counterweight--.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-20 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Jiang (US Pat. No. 6,616,582) teaches an exerciser with a resting board, a shaft, a main body, handles, a compression spring, a connecting rod and a rotating disk.

Yu (US Pat. No. 6,719,675) discloses an exercising device comprising a resting board, handles, a support rod, a rotation body and a counterweight.

The prior art of record fails to teach an exercising device comprising a main body including an elastic member, a slide, and two casings both formed with a slide channel, a support rod movably mounted in the slide channel of the main body, a resting board mounted on the support rod, a connecting lever and handles mounted on the main body, and the device further comprising a rotation body that includes a pivot ring secured to the connecting lever, with a first and second disk rotatably mounted on the pivot ring about a pivot axis and a counterweight, radially adjustable with respect to the pivot axis, mounted between the first and second disks.
